

ABSTRACT

1           An Internet print device font distribution method and web site.
2   Font users are visitors to a web site that allows browsing and obtaining of 3   fonts, either individually or in groups. Preferably, purchases are made through 4   the web site, but the method may allow installation of fonts through the web
5   site as a result of other authorizations, e.g., an electronic coupon for visitors or 6   a tie-in to other products, services, and web sites. Web site functions include
7   operating system compatibility matching. The web site obtains configuration
8   information to insure compatibility of a font to a visitor's configuration.
9   Software on the web site downloads, installs and configures fonts on the 10   visitor's print device.